

Human Interface Society Review Report

Paper No: S-28-4-002

Date in: 2026/4/26

Reviewer: Reviewer2

1. Individual evaluation for standard items, please grade the paper in 5 levels in terms of three standard items.

1.1. Originality/Novelty

(1) Please mark viewpoint(s) for evaluating the novelty of this paper in the following list.

System

(2) Mark the most appropriate score (and description) in the following list.

2-b: This paper does not show a level of novelty, which is considered to be a publishable level. The paper, however, can be published if it has a well-publishable level of usability.

(3) Comments: Please justify your evaluation about novelty below.

1.2. Availability/usability

(1) Please select and mark one viewpoint for evaluating the availability of this paper in the following list.

b: The paper presents disciplines for practical use, improvement ,upgrading

(2) Mark the most appropriate score (and description) in the following list.

3: This paper shows availability/usability, which is good enough for publication as it is in a current appearance.

(3) Comments: Please justify your evaluation about availability/usability below.

1.3. Reliability

(1) Evaluate the following items based upon “Review standard for reliability” (please mark the appropriate number from 1 to 5)

a. No apparent mistakes and confusion in the manuscript

3

b. Flow of the argument appears straightforward.

3

c. The paper is appropriately justified by reference with relevant study

1

d. The results and outcome of the study are described clearly

2

e. No exaggerated or excessive expressions are found.

3

f. No typos or nonsensical phrase are found.

4

g. The format of the manuscript is suitable for an academic article.

3

h. Experimental conditions and methods are appropriately described.

3

Review standard for reliability

5: Absolutely no problems are present in this evaluation item.

4: It is sufficient level, although it is not perfect.

3: There are minor problems; however, they do not influence the context of the essential part of the paper.

2: There are some problems affecting the context of the essential part of the paper; however they seem to be revised easily.

1: There are some damaging problems affecting the context of the essential part of the paper and they seem to be difficult to correct by the revision.

(2) Comments to the author for its reliability

2. Overall evaluation

- Accept without revision

3. Comments to the editor

4. Revisions required for acceptance or reasons for rejection

5. Other comments